Ko te whakaora, he hīkoi whakāmarama Māna anō tōna ake ara whakaora e whakarau.

A journey of discovery where an individual leads their own unique process of moving forwards.

Comcare recognises the importance of the relationship between physical and mental health, having endorsed the 'Equally Well' initiative. This has been developed to improve the physical health outcomes for people with experience of mental health and/or addiction issues.

Activelife

Activelife is a specialised healthy living programme providing facilitated healthy eating discussions and exercise taster sessions. It brings people with mental illness or addiction issues together in a safe and supported environment. The programme assists people to learn about healthy eating, be more active and make more positive choices in a fun environment.

Activelife provides the opportunity to participate in cooking healthy lunches and to gain useful meal planning, shopping, and cooking skills.
